

OUR THEATRES NEXT WEEK.

Broadway and Casino Will Close Their Doors Temporarily.

Patti's Farewell Concert at Carnegie Music Hall.

Two theatres will be closed next week—the Broadway and the Casino. At the former house preparations will be made for the new production of the country of the latest Gilbert & Sullivan opera, "Utopia Limited," which will be seen March 28, interpreted by the special company brought from England by Fanny Carter.

Miss Patti will say goodbye to America on a festive occasion, and will leave on Thursday afternoon at Carnegie Music Hall. She may say a few words to the audience on the subject of her career, which has been very successful, but it is not likely that she will say more than a few words. She will appear in the second act of "Mertha" and in a miscellaneous programme.

The revival of "Mertha" at the Star Theatre has so far met with complete success. The play has been very successful, and the company has been very popular. The play is a very handsome manner, and the cast is of the highest quality.

AN OUTING IN WALES.

Mark Parlington's Search for a Romance and How He Found It.

Mark Parlington was in distress. That was the reason why he took a hansom straight from the doctor's to Ralph Gray's rooms in the Albany. He knew, or might have known, that it was just the time when Ralph was most busy, but the moment he entered the room, the doctor's most rigid and, as he fondly thought, most refined, but Mark was not sufficient enough to care two paces whether the doctor's friend in the middle of a business or a friend's son. And yet he did, was a writer.

STUDENTS RUSH COMSTOCK.

What Easter Signifies to Society, and Why New Gowns Pay. With the crowds pour from the churches along Fifth avenue on Easter Sunday the scene is brilliant and fascinating, even to old and staid New Yorkers. The fresh costumes, the bright flowers, smiling faces, handsome turns of head, and the general air of joyousness, the admiration, Society makes the picture what it is.
